

Kim Raines Chatelain, 1st Assistant Inspector General
Jefferson Parish Government, Louisiana

In September 2013, Ms. Chatelain was appointed the 1st Assistant Inspector General for the newly created Jefferson Parish Office of Inspector General (JPOIG). As the 1st Assistant, Ms. Chatelain provides legal counsel and direction across all areas of operations, audit and investigation, as well as provides program oversight and administration. Among her most significant contributions, Ms. Chatelain led the initiative to develop a comprehensive manual of policies and procedures which cite to and directly correspond with the Association of Inspectors General (AIG) Green Book standards.

Ms. Chatelain joined the AIG as a member shortly after her appointment, and she became a Certified Inspector General in August 2014. Ms. Chatelain attended her first AIG conference in November 2013 which was held in New Orleans, and she has been a regular attendee since that time. Ms. Chatelain would be pleased and honored to serve as a member of the AIG Board.

Ms. Chatelain looks forward to the the continued growth and development of the AIG as a resource for its members. The consideration and development of a "white paper" library on critical issues for new and established offices of inspectors general is of particular interest to her. Ms. Chatelain authored several position papers on subject matters affecting new and established offices of inspector general, such as data access and indendence of funding, in response to challenges affecting the Jefferson Parish Office of Inspector General. The support and assistance of the AIG, and its members, proved invaluable during these times.

Ms. Chatelain is a licensed attorney of twenty-five years, including fourteen years as an Assistant Attorney General for the State of Louisiana. She has extensive experience representing governmental entities in state and federal court and advising governmental entities on legislative, administrative, and regulatory matters. Immediately prior to joining the Jefferson Parish Office of Inspector General, Ms. Chatelain was the Director of Governmental and Ethics Compliance for Jefferson Parish. As Director, she developed and implemented new administrative policies across government and launched a program of ethics education.

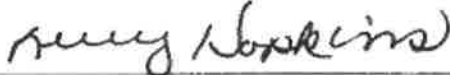

Ms. Chatelain received her Juris Doctor Degree from Tulane Law School in New Orleans, Louisiana and her Bachelor of Arts Degree from Louisiana State Univesity, Baton Rouge, Louisiana. She is a Certified Ethics and Compliance Professional, and a member of the Association of Certified Fraud Examiners.
