

ASSOCIATION OF INSPECTORS GENERAL

Advancing Professionalism, Accountability & Integrity

2023 ANNUAL TRAINING CONFERENCE - INNOVATION & THE FUTURE OF OVERSIGHT

DEADLINE FOR SUBMISSION OF PROPOSALS: FRIDAY, APRIL 28th

PROPOSAL SELECTION & SPEAKER NOTIFICATION: FRIDAY, MAY 26TH

The Association of Inspectors General is pleased to open its CALL FOR SPEAKERS for the 2023 Annual Training Conference being held live and in-person at John Jay College in NEW YORK CITY from October 4th to 6th, 2023.

As the inspector general community emerges along with the rest of the world from the Covid-19 pandemic, innovation will shape the future of government oversight, transparency, and accountability. Our annual conference continues to grow, and we seek to offer innovative training opportunities to investigators, auditors, lawyers, inspectors and evaluators, and leadership. We invite you to share your expertise, best practices, and innovative solutions for consideration to our plenary or breakout sessions. Note that all proposals must meet standards for NASBA continuing professional education (CPE) credits and/or New York State Bar Association continuing legal education (CLE) credits. We are seeking your innovative presentations on topics such as:

- *Oversight Innovations
- *Data Analytic Success Stories
- *Management Lessons Learned
- *Handling Online Media and Oversight
- *To Prosecute or Discipline
- *The Double-side of Transparency
- *IG Responsibility in the Era of Hostility to Government
- *Running an Office Post Pandemic
- *The Latest Forensic Tips

Submission requirements and additional information can be found by clicking here.

CALL FOR SPEAKERS SELECTION CRITERIA:

We are looking for speakers who:

- Have substantial topic knowledge (i.e., a subject-matter expert)
- Have experience giving dynamic, engaging presentations, and facilitating learning environments
- Have deep knowledge and understanding of government oversight trends

We are looking for presentations that:

- Clearly apply to the identified target audience
- Provide skills that attendees can "begin to use Monday morning"
- Offer current, practical, and innovative content that relates to the oversight profession
- Are based on application-focused learning objectives that can realistically be met in the time allotted
- Provide clear, specific, and informative content that directly meets the learning objectives
- Demonstrate how research and evaluation has refined and advanced best practices
- Demonstrate measurable impact with evidence of effective results
- Reflect a diverse group of speakers with respect to age, color, disability, gender identity, genetic information, national origin, parental status, race, religion, sex, sexual orientation, and veteran status
- Have different backgrounds, roles in their respective offices and levels of experience, as well as speakers from different geographic locations and levels of government (e.g., military, local, state, federal, and international)

Other considerations to note:

- Global issues addressing interests of the international community and multinational organizations are valued
- Advanced and intermediate topics are preferred over basic or overview sessions

Important Information

PRESENTATION TIMELINES

Presenters will generally have 50-60 minutes for an introduction, presentation, closing remarks/summaries, and questions.

NONCOMMERCIAL AND NONPARTISAN POLICY

Presentations and panels at the annual conference are learning experiences; they are noncommercial and nonpartisan. Under no circumstances should a presentation or panel be used for direct promotion of a speaker's product, service, or other self-interest. Partisan presentations and commercial solicitations are prohibited. If the essential purpose of a proposal is to promote books, materials, or services for sale, it will not be accepted.

NASBA POLICY

The AIG is registered with the National Association of State Boards of Accountancy (NASBA) as a sponsor of continuing professional education on the National Registry of CPE Sponsors. Only those proposals that satisfy NASBA Standards, are deemed relevant and presented by individuals or groups that possess sufficient expertise to demonstrate an advanced knowledge of the subject matter and provide clearly enunciated learning objectives are selected for presentation. See the AIG's NASBA Administrative Policy at <http://inspectorsgeneral.org/files/2020/07/NASBA-Admin-Policy-Group-Live-07.25.2020.pdf>.

AFTER SELECTION

If the AIG Training Conference Committee selects your presentation, you will be asked to provide:

- Professional high-resolution headshot photograph (300x300, 300 dpi minimum)
- PowerPoint Presentation for dissemination to Training Conference participant
